CAMPING OUT.

It Is Then that Man Returns to His Fore father's Primitive Life.

When a man spends one million dolcestors, who knew no better shelter than a cave, a hut or a tent. Nevertheless, in spite of all our civilization, the underlying primitive longing for a freer cities. The crowds that take their outings in the parks provided by different municipalities for the families of those who can only leave in the heat of summer their sweltering homes for a few hours, or at most a day, illustrate the same primitive instinct. It declares itself also in the suburban cottages that are to be found among our hills and in the village communities that are springing up on every side. It finds even a who leave the city to camp out for some | shall ever be grateful. weeks or months in tents. It brings them nearer to the old 'prehistoric and biblical life, and it enables them to hold close communion with nature, to feel the soft yielding of the grass, and to stand face to face, if not with "the lights and shadows. It is an axom that there is in all of us some remains of the savage-in the Englishman, who, during his sojourn in the country, wants "to go out and kill something," and in the American in the Adirondacks, half of whose delight in that hrimitive wilderness is the opportunity it offers him for hunting and fishing. There is as little doubt of the healthfulness of "camping out" as of its cheapness. Many of these "campers" are not actuated by those religious feelings which draw large bodies of men and women together at the recurrence of the summer season. They have been led into it by the freedom of an open-air life-the old primitive instinct-and by the ease of an existence reduced to a cooking stove, a few chairs and the necessary beds. The charm of camping tent life around Baltimore has not died out since the old Wesleyan times, but remains a survival of the Methodist camp-meeting with modifications. Other cities may offer attractions more novel, but with us the campers say the Strauss might properly be termed love of the canvas village is increasing. There are thousands who are making them their summer homes, some during the month of August only, many from the first of July to the last of September. The primitive instinct is manifest in this kind of life, although our people are no longer cave-dwellers or builders of rude huts, and instead of the tents of skins of the Goths and Huns, or the camel's-hair tents of the Bedouins, they shelter themselves beneath the cotton duck of the present day.-Baltimore

A MEAN MAN.

He Put Up a Painful Job on His Peor Lit-

A crawfish is constructed similarly to a lobster, but is very much smaller. His pincers operate ordinary when touched by any foreign substances and they are tight squeezers. One night recently the meanest man in Rochester procured a half-pound of crawfish and tied them up in a paper. He reached home at midnight and in the quiet of the parlor undid the package. The fish had apparently gone to sleep for the night, and to give them some animation he poured a few drops of whisky on them from a convenient bottle and then tied the creatures into his pantaloons pockets.

Soon all was quiet in his sleeping apartment and he successfully counterfeited his accustomed Scandinavian snore. Then the partner of his bosom quietly arose and proceeded to do some banking business with his trousers which hung on their usual peg.

It is said that "Freedom shrieked when Kosciusko fell." Well, if she ever shrieked as did the wife when she got a couple of mad crawfish on the ends of her tapering fingers it would have scaled all the whitewash off of every ceiling in Poland. When a woman can yell so as to cause a towpath mule to fall into the canal and curdle all the milk in the neighborhood you can rest assured that, as the saying is, there is something in the air. She continued to shriek until she exhausted all the atmosphere there was in the house, by which time the crawfish got frightened and let go of their own accord. -Rochester Union. THE STATE DIVIDED INTO SECTIONS.

Southwest Missouri Doing Fairly Well Compared With the Others-But Few Counties Show Decreases -Heavy Indebtedness of Northeast and Northwest Missouri.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Sept. 29.—Labor Commissioner Hall has made a report to the governor concerning his investigation into the farm mortgages of Missouri during the past two years. The commissioner says in part:

For the sake of convenience, as well as for the purpose of deductive remarks, six tables are submitted, dividing the state into as many subdivisions, each containing an equal number of counties, having regard to established geographical distinctions, and as near as possible without further dividing; grouped with reference to the products that distinguish them.

Table No. 5 is southeast Missouri, composed

A summary, table No. 7, shows that during the years 1890 and 1891, 45,374 tracts were mortgaged, besides those that were placed on record and afterward paid off within two years as is explained later, covering 4,514 082 acres, representing in amount $40,063,144. Of this amount $10,075,050, or more than one-fourth is placed in northwest Missouri, composed of one-sixth of the counties, containing 15 per cent. of the poplation. Whenever reference to population is nade St. Louis city is eliminated.

Four of the counties show a decrease in population of 92, 140, 318 and 1,118 persons respectively. In one of the counties, Nodaway, the amount of mortgages for the two years is $1,399.968, which is greater than that of any other county in the state, and besides Saline and St. Louis is the only one whose showing exceeds $1,000,000. This county also shipped the greatest number of cattle and hogs in 1891; the value of the surplus agricultural products for the last year amounted to $2,830,529. The surplus for the sub-division aggregates $26,192,-231, or a little more than a fifth of the total surplus of the state. Excepting the coal from includes the Platte purchase and is not excelled in beauty of topography and fertility of soil in

into 7,888 tracts; representing 25 per cent of the entire mortgages for the two years; the population is 573,015, or 21.1 per cent.; four of the counties having decreased in inhabitants 2,078 and distributed as follows: 40, 88, 898 and

1,057 respectively. This subdivision's surplus is $31,429,147, or 24 Northeast Missouri is exhibited in table No. with mortgages for two years of $8,883,726, or 22 per cent., comprising 946,371 acres, divided into 10,232 parcels. The population is 13 per cent. -367,810. The surplus is $22,160,199, or 18 per cent. Pike and Linn counties produce more apples than any other two counties; Sulivan averages well generally; Randolph and Macon rank near the top of the coal counties, while Putnam makes a good showing of this mineral; Chariton raises the bulk of the tobacco grown: Audrain leads in oats and averages good in all cereals and live stock. This section competes with northwest Missouri for the honors in agricultural and stock raising, and is second only to central Missouri, if second at all, as a blue grass region. Table No. 4 treats of southwest Missouri. Mortgages for the two years foot up $7,123,542, or 17 per cent., covering 834,532 acres of 9,113 tracts. The surplus is $24,534,418, or 14 per cent. In population its rank is next lowest, that for northeast Missouri being 13 per cent. northwest is 15 per cent. and central is 21 per cent. This section has four counties with no railroad or river, yet the surplus is 19 per cent., while cent, northwest 20 per cent. If the four counties undeveloped had the same transportation facilities that the more favored portions have, the southwest would pass the northwest and dispute with central Missouri the right to the

As it is, it contains the county with the argest surplus, namely, Jasper, whose magnificent showing is $5,811,773. Henry is the second in the state, $3,605,219. Bates is fourth, $3,274, conjunction with the proportion she bears in population and surplus. Her debt ratio for the years 1890 and 1891 is 17 per cent.; northeast, 22 per cent; central, 25 per cent; northwest, 25

Table No. 5 treats of the unique southeast, of which so little is known by the majority of those of the other sections, caused by less intercommunication than exists between the four ning east and west have their termini within her borders. Her mortgage debt drops down to less than one-third that of the southwest and scarcely more than a fifth of the amount of northwest Missouri. It amounts to $8,184,203, or 5 per cent. Embracing 530,677 acres made up of 3,742 tracts. The population is 234,360 or 9 per cent. The surplus is $13,734,041, or 11 per

The mortgages of southeast Missouri show to her advantage and conservatism. They not only aggregate less than the preceding sections, but the proportion of foreign capital repre-

Table No. 6 is now in order and deals with outh central Missouri: Population, 236,355, or per cent. of the entire state. Surplus, $6.013,-38, or 4 per cent. of the entire state. Mortgages, $1,804,941, or 4 per cent of the entire

The ratios are not as creditable as those for nt.; here it is 2 per cent. There the surplus is 11 per cent.: here it is 4 per cent. There the mortgages are 5 per cent; here they are 4 per cent. This section empraces the Ozark range. The taxed acres in Missouri in 1890 are 39, 671,240 of which 26,322,251, or 66 per cent., are in the first four divisions of the state, and 13,348, 989, or 33 per cent., are in the combined territory of the southwest and south central Missouri, the proportion being two to one. This proportion does not hold when the ratio of mortgaged acres is compared with taxed acres. During the years 1890 and 1891 there were mortgaged in Missouri, 4,524,082 acres, of which 3,-434,350 acres are in the first four sections, mak ing 75 per cent., while only 1,089,732, or 24 per cent., are in the southeast and south central Missouri, making a difference against the first four sections and in favor of the last two of a little more than three to one. It is reasonable, then, to conclude that if the two last sections named were as well adapted to agriculture as in the other four, and as fully supplied with transportation facilities, that the ratio between Missouri and Illinois would be changed, if it did not place Illinois in the most favorable

It is always more aggreeable to dwell on the things favorable to one's state. Nothing would cause us to prefer truth to flattery when the first may be against and the latter in our favor. except the gravity of the question and the conscientious performance of a duty which so vitally affects the farmers who constitute the majority of our population, on whose prosperity depends the welfare of all. In the comparisons of these ratios with the other states named, Nebraska, Iowa and Kansas, the showing would remain favorable to Missouri by any fair test. This can be accounted for because the farmers of this state have more accumulated wealth, our climate is more equitable, our rainfall surer, our winters shorter and less severe than those of Iowa and Nebraska, our soil Commissioner Hall's Report For is better and we have less to contend with against insects, blights and hot winds.

The following is the ratio that each subdivision bears of the surplus for 1891 to the mortgages made in 1890 and 1891: Northeast Missouri's mortgages are 40 cent. of its surplus.

Northwest Missouri's mortgages are 38 per cent. of its surplus. Central Missouri's mortgages are 31 per cent. of its surplus.

South Central Missouri's mortgages are 30 per cent. of its surplus. Southwest Missouri's mortgages are 20 per cent. of its surplus.

Southeast Missouri's mortgages are 15 per ent. of its surplus. If the surplus products of these subdivisions, as reported by the transportation companies, is fairly indicative of the wealth-producing capacity of each, as it appears in the map issued by this department for 1832, then southeast Missouri is better able to reduce her indebtedness, while the northeast is the least able, followed by the northwest, and, more remotely, by the central, south central and south-

There are four more deductions in table No. 7 sufficiently apparent at a glance. The following mentions made is not so much for the purposes of a clearer elucidation, but to connect the facts with the antecedent ones, thus completing the circle of remarks covering the information more concisely shown by the figures. The average number of acres to each mortgage for the state and for each of the six sub-in the northwest..... Average number of acres to each mortgage in the northeast..... Average number of acres to each mortgage in the central.... in the southwest....

Average number of acres to each mortgage in south central..... This indicates that the average farm in northwest Missouri is smaller than in either of the other sections, followed in their order by southwest Missouri, northeast Missouri, central Missouri and southeast Missouri, where they are the largest. The average price per acre of each acre mortgaged is: For the state..... For northwest Missouri..... For northeast Missouri..... For central Missouri..... For southwest Missouri.... For southeast Missouri..... For south Central Missouri.....

This table shows that land is the most valuable in central Missouri; next in northwest Missouri, then in northeast Missouri, then in southwest Missouri, then in southeast Mis-

mortgaged is in northwest Missouri, which is to a larger degree agricultural than any other subdivision of the state, followed by northeast Missouri. The proper order, placing the sections in their relative ratios, in proportion that their agricultural products bear to their total source of wealth would place central Missouri third, but the table supplants this division, put ting southwest Missouri instead. The probable reason for this is that central Missouri had been settled longer than the southwest. Farming, especially stock raising, was very profitable up to ten years ago, enabling the farmers of central Missouri to accumulate more wealth than tled as late as 1875. For these reasons the per cent. of land mortgaged in southwest Missouri is greater than central Missouri. The per cent. in southeast and contral Missouri is the same. Without any knowledge of the details of the inquiry made by the census bureau relating to mortgages, except the general information furnished by the press that statistics on the nial period beginning January 1, 1880, and ending December 31, 1889, determined your com missioner to continue the investigation, comperiod of two years. It was also decided to confine the inquiry to farm mortgages, the wisdom of which is made plain in our mind, in contrasting the difference in effect between town The inquiry differs from the government's i this respect, important to remember. They nad subsequently been paid off in the same of census bulletin No. 22, which shows the amount of farm mortgages for the ten years to be $250,801,580, divided into 26,787 tracts, covering 26,193,263 acres. Over the table is placed in brackets the following words: "These mortgages do not represent the total debt in force ecause many have been paid." This bureau pursued a different course, by taking only mortgages recorded during the years 1890-91 that were not shown to have been paid off. For instance, if 160 acres of land was mortgaged January 1, 1890, and the margin of the record showed that it had been satisfied at day of December, 1891, it was not considered in fair. the tabulation of mortgages satisfied. No account whatever was taken of mortgages made in the two years, if within the same period they had been canceled by being paid in full. somewhat to the number of acres mortgaged, the number of tracts mortgaged and the amoun of the mortgages. All of which would have been exactly canceled by taking account of the same information when the tabulation was made of mortgages paid off within the two years, that had previously been put on in the same period of time, so that the resultant showing of the number of tracts, number of acres and amount of debt, after the satisfactions had been credited, would have been precisely what the showing is. Forty million sixty-three thousand and one hundred and forty-four dollars is then the amount of mortgages placed on farms in Missouri during 1890-1 and unpaid on the thirtyfirst day of December, 1891, a period of two

The second inquiry made by this bureau is o equal, if not greater, interest than the ascertainment of the mortgages created and unpaid in two years. It is this: The agents of this bureau, after finding out the increase of farm mortgages for two years, went back in the records to January 1, 1890, turning leaf by leaf, to see what amount of the mortgages in the 10 years of the decennial period had been paid off in 1890-1. Now if more mortgages antedating January 1, 1890, back to and including January 1, 1880, had been satisfied in 1890-1 than had been placed on record in those two years, the difference shows to what extent a county decreased her mortgages in two

It is to be regretted that Henry, Pettis and Bates are the only ones showing a decrease in the debt-though there are many where the increase is very slight; on this more will be said in the proper place. Let it be repeated, for a great deal depends on the proper understand-ing of the full payments made in the two years: Mortgages made in the years 1880, 1881, 1882, 1883, 1884, 1885, 1885, 1887, 1888, 1889, which were paid of in 1890 and 1891, are credited against rigages placed on record in 1890 and 1891; the difference shows the increase or decrease of the debt of each county in two years, namely WELLSVILLE, Kan., Sept. 30.—The tragical fate of the Atkinson family has cast a pall over this township that has never before been equaled.

Between 8:30 and 4 a. m. Wednesday morning, during a slight thunder shower, Mr. S. G. Wilkerson-living a quarter of a mile north of Mr. Atkinsonwhile reaching for a cup of water beside his bed, discovered the blazing building. Slipping on his boots, and dressing as he ran, he soon arrived on the premises-called in vain for the family—sought them at the barn, and The Cholera at New York Not Yet Dis rushing back to the almost consumed building, realized the full force of the disaster in the utter absence of anything saved from the fire and the discovery of the almost consumed body of disease resembling cholera. Whether this gun was also his has not been settled. The gun pointed toward his head was "a double barreled breechloader." Putting the iron work together it was discovered that one trigger had been pulled, while the other was at "half cock." Examining the shell it was found that corresponding with the pulled trigger, the cap had received the needle, while corresponding with the raised hammer the shell had not been struck, conclusively showing that one barrel had been discharged during the Griffin, of Watertown, well known in New York state politics, boarded the train with Mr. Cleveland and accompanied him through to New York. When the ex-president changed cars at Middleboro several men on the platform stepped forward and Mr. Cleveland shook their hands cordially.

The trip from Buzzard's Bay to Fall River was a quick and a pleasant one. Occasionally people in passing through the train on recognizing Mr. Cleveland greeted him antly. On reaching Fall River Mr. Cleveland and party immediately boarded the steamer Pilgrim of the Fall River line en route to New York. Upon arriving at New York Mr. Cleveland will be driven to the Victoria hotel where he will remain during his visit to the city.

WONDERFUL PACING RACE.

Mascot Does a Mile in 2:04—Other Events Equally Exciting-Martha Wilkes Trots a Mile in 2:08 1-4 at Evansville, Ind.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Sept. 30.—All race records were smashed yesterday and the world's record made by Nancy Hanks in her mile trotted against time was tied. The average for the five heats was less than 2:06%. It was an ideal racing day, and at least 2,000 people drawn by the excitement of Hanks' wonderful performance the day before, were added to the crowd of 10,000 yesterday and filled the grand stand and quarter stretch. Before the great freefor-all pace, Vinnette had in the 2:13 pace lowered the track's race record made by Hal Pointer, 2:0914, and then lost the race, and the handsome daughter of Jersey Wilkes had taken a race and a mark of 2:16% in handy style in the 2:28 trot. Between the heats of the last race three free-for-allers were at work out, and the Jib brushed a quarter in 0:31.

All of this served to work up the people to fever heat, and when the three side-wheelers scored down for the word the Jib was at the pole; Mascot, second, min Reaver, suspected of having and Guy, third. They got away at the second attempt, scoring down at a terrific clip. They were at the eighth in 151/4 seconds, where Mascot overhauled Jib and took the pole. Guy was trailing, and it was plain to be seen that the rivals were to fight it out.

Around the upper turn they flew and the Jib was at Mascot's throatlatch at the half in 1:031/2. The second quarter had been done in 311/4 seconds. Faster and yet faster was the pace for the third quarter. It was a killing one, and was done in 291/2 seconds. Nancy Hanks' record for a quarter was smashed, and in a race heat at that. Into the stretch the pair flew at this unheard of clip, and the mile was done

In the 2:28 trot Chiquerita, the handsome daughter of Jersey Wilkes, honored her sire by making a mark of 2:163/4 with ease in the third and deciding the heat. The fact that she is owned by president Ijams, of the local association, gave added interest to the

Isaacs was about to strike him, but was deterred by consideration of the man's age and feebleness, and moreover the two negroes sprang to their feet suggestively. The warrant was sworn out to-day before Justice Brown, and Blake will be arrested to-morrow. The maximum penalty, upon conviction, is six months in jail or a fine of $500 or both, at the discretion of the judge. The state committee will soon be asked to request Blake's resignation upon penalty of Warner's being Thursday, Belle Acton, in all probheld responsible for Blake's utterances in the event that Blake is continued as a member of the committee. It is well known that is merely Warner's mouthpiece, and in all things the reflection of Warner's thought, being himself colorless and weak. No one thought him so rash as thus to give offense to the Hebrew people, who have contributed materially to the prosperity of the people, and while the epithet applied to Isaacs does not sound as pretty as "Stand up for Missouri" it appears to be much more republican.

The true reason for the determination of Blake, Bothwell Bittinger and that crowd to force Isaacs out of the league came to general knowledge to-day. When Isaacs was in St. Louis recently he told ex-Congressman Allen, of Michi- Stevens, a fine boy baby, weight 12 gan, that Warner would certainly be pounds. May he grow up into a beaten about 35,000 votes. Allen at once carried the story to the energetic business man like his republican national headquarters, father, is the wish of the Demoat the very time when there was CRAT. under consideration an urgent application for money for use in this state. It had been represented that if a little money were set apart for pocket of lead ore while excavating Missouri, Warner would carry the for the extension of the sewer, state and perhaps pull Harrison just west of the main sewer, Tuesthrough. It had nearly been re- day. A wagon load of metal was solved to give the state committee taken out. $65,000, when Allen came in with his story, said that money given to Missouri would be squandered, the whole project fell through, and therefore it was that when Bittinger, of St. Joseph, arose in Monday's secret session to asked for Isaacs' head, he said, bitterly, to his intended victim:

"D-n you, you have cost us $65,000."

All the disaffected republicans of Kansas City are now strengthened in their disaffection by the evident A Kansas City special to the Re- hostility of the Warnerites, and without respect to party the Hebrews of the city announce their purpose of resenting effectively the insult heaped upon them all in the person of one of their number."

Too Much of a Risk.

It is not unusual for colds contracted in the fall to hang on all winter. In such cases catarrh or chronic bronchitis are almost sure to result. A fifty cent bottle of Chamberlain's cough remedy will cure any cold. Can you afford to risk so much for so small an amount? This remedy is intended especially for bad colds and croup and can always be depended upon.

MAJOR WILLIAM WARNER has served the purpose of a sort of an object lesson to remind the people of this state of what radical rule really was in Missouri. Wherever the major has spoken, there democracy is most active and enthusiastic.

We know this and would be basely ungrateful if we did not appreciate it.

> We have given Mr. Hart our cheerful support when he has needalone, (as the Gazette claims), but because we knew him competent and worthy, and I don't think there are any of us who would not do so that is, working for the party of which he is a member. If a few republicans did at some time vote for him, it seems from what we read that it was expected by some that protracted spell of the sulks, but they did not know him as we do.

In conclusion I want to say that I have talked with many railroad men, as well as those who are not, in the past few days, and I find many indeed who are of the same opinion Yours truly, REPUBLICAN RAILROAD MAN.

CLEVELAND'S LETTER.

The letter of acceptance of Grover Cleveland is to-day given to the public.

It is what was expected from the man-a calm, bold, manly, frank discussion of the public questions which are at issue in the campaign. No issue is dodged, none avoided

-there is nothing of the demagogue or politician in it.

It is the voice of an honest, manly man talking to a people who have called him to serve them and, therefore, have a right to know his opinions on public questions.

The letter is short enough for the busy man to read.

It is plain enough for every man to understand.

It holds to the true doctrine that the duty of government is to protect every man in the right to own and enjoy the products of his own labor, and challenges the "protect. ive tariff system" as a pernicious measure which takes one man's earnings and gives it to another.

He lays down the doctrine that a government has no right to tax its citizens except to raise funds to pay the expenses of an honest, economical government.

He favors sound and honest

The pension question is handled in the same frank and conservative way, and, acknowledging the valor and services of the union soldier, Mr. Cleveland thinks the pension should there appear.

The force bill is denounced and the true American doctrine of "trust the people" is boldly maintained.

There is nothing sensational about the letter, but it is one that will inspire the confidence of the conservative citizen and will appeal strongly to those who admire courage, frankness and directness.

What Chairman Atkinson, of Geor gia, Has to Say About Weaver's Big "Kick."

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 28.—Hon. W. Y. Atkinson, chairman of the democratic executive committee, of Georgia, says in reply to the published address of General Weaver and various special telegrams which have been sent out from Georgia by Mrs. Lease, that they do great injustice not only to the democrats, but to the people of the state: He says: "According to his own admission, General Weaver received a respectful hearing at Way cross and Columbus. At Albany his speech was listened to by several hundred people, and no effort whatever was made to prevent him from speaking. A prominent negro of that place at the conclusion of Weaver's speech took the stand to refute what he had said and bitterly attacked Weaver and the third party. Weaver was so indignant that a negro should attempt to answer him that he immediately left the platform. The only possible foundation for the greatly exaggerated egg story spread broadcast by General Weaver and Mrs. Lease is that a small boy in the open-air audience at Macon threw an egg, and he was promptly arrested and punished for it."

As to Mrs. Lease's statement that were repeated twice in the presence of the governor of Georgia at the state capital," Mr. Atkinson says, "General Weaver or Mrs. Lease did not appear as advertised in Atlanta. They would not go up to the capitol where a large crowd had assembled to hear them. Governor description will be given of the Northern hearing that Weaver would not speak, claiming that he would not be listened to, went to insure him a hearing, and the meeting by vote guaranteed that he would be respectfully listened to. I called on the chairman of the executive committee of the people's party of the state early in the evening to extend him this guarantee, and he told me that General Weaver had made up his mind not to speak.

This being the case, our attention should be particularly called to a correct sanitation and a proper regard to cleanliness in what we both drink and eat as well as a proper care of the body.

The cholera germ, although acting so violently and fatally upon the human organism, is notoriously of frail life, in fact one of the owest forms of organisms.

To successfully contend against the inroads of this malady we must, by all means remove and destroy all dirt and fith producing products and in the next place see to it that our systems are kept in the best possible condition by avoiding over feeding, especially in the watery articles of diet, the excessive use of alcoholic or other fermentative drinks, and above all not allow a panic to take hold of the community, by the publication and circulation of sensational literature. Negotiations for Opening Additional Indian Lands.

FORT SILL, I. A BIG MAJORITY IN STORE FOR THE DEMOCRACY.

Major Harvey Salmon Talks of the State Campaign and the Splendid Work Being Done.

Major Harvey Salmon, chairman of the executive committee of the state central committee of the Missouri democracy, was in the city to-day and was briefly interviewed by a DEMOCRAT reporter:

"What of the campaign, Major?"

"It is in splendid shape as far as the democracy is concerned, and never before was the party so thoroughly organized or so deeply in earnest. This talk about 'a new Missouri' has stirred up the demopropose to rebuke what is intended

IN 2:04.

Nancy Hanks Surprises the Horseflesh World.

A REGULATION TRACK

The Little Mare Driven By Doble a Mile in 2:04 at Terre Haute, Ind.—Monbars Also Breaks a Stallion Record.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Sept. 29.—The world's record for the light harness horse, either trotting or pacing, was lowered yesterday when Nancy Hanks trotted the mile in 2:04.

The 10,000 people who saw it sat breathless for a moment after the little mare passed under the wire, and even Doble, always modest of speech, declared, when carried to the judges' stand on the shoulders of the crowd and called upon for a speech, that he "was hoarse because Nancy Hanks went so fast it took his breath away."

It was about half past 4 o'clock when Nancy Hanks would go to beat her record of 2:07 made over the regulation track at St. Paul. The daughter of Happy Medium had been worked two earlier in the afternoon. The runner, Abe Lincoln, stood opposite the flag, while Nancy was taken well up the stretch for the start. Coming like a whirlwind down the stretch Abe was at her wheel and Doble nodded for the word. The clip was a terrific one. She was at the eighth in 151/4 seconds and at the first quarter in 31 seconds.

The second, and up hill quarter, was done in 31% seconds, the half being reached in 1:02%. The excited crowd began to cheer, but at a word from the judge lapsed into silence. This was only broken by murmurs when the third quarter was done in 29% seconds.

Even the judges were appalled at the wonderful burst of speed and thought the mare was running away. So fast did she come that no one could tell her gait. On she flew and into the stretch, never faltering. Doble, clucking gently, "whoa" to keep her steady, squared her away for the great flight home. Even her light hoofbeats sounded loud to the silent crowd. As Doble gathered her for the final effort he touched her gently with the whip, gave two or three masterful lifts of his and the world's record, either pace or trot, was lowered one and one-fourth seconds and the record for regulation track three

The excitement over the great mile did not really begin until evening, when crowds gathered about the hotels. Nearly every noted driver in the country is here, and all are unanimous in declaring that it was the most wonderful mile ever done. Mr. Doble received hundreds of telegrams of congratulation from all over the country. He wired Mr. Bonner: Nancy Hanks, 2:04 over a regulation track." This is a gentle hint that the owner of Maud S. and Sunol can present him the $5,000 offered for the horse to trot a mile in 2:05 over a regulation track.

Mr. Doble said last evening that too much credit could not be given Ben Kenny, who brought out Hanks and gave her her first race record. "The more I see of her," he added, "and the longer I handle her, the more credit I give Kenny. The little mare is of sweet disposition, but easily spoiled, and I feel proud to know that she should have first gone into the hands of a man who knew just how to handle her."

Mr. Doble was questioned about the great mile and asked if he thought Hanks had reached her limit. He said the track was just right, the mare was just right, and the driver was at himself. As to the possibilities of Hanks lowering her record he thought that, as she is only 6 years old, she would train on next year and be even a better mare than now.

The official time of the mile is: To beat 2:07 Nancy Hanks, by Happy Medium, dam Nancy Lee, Doble, 1. Time, :31, 1:0234, 1:3214, 2:04.

Not only was the world's record broken, but the three-year-old stallion record made in 1889 by Axtell when he trotted over this track in 2:12 was lowered by Monbars, the black son of Eagle Bird. He was accompanied by a runner and made the quarters as follows: :33%, 1:071/4, 1:393/4, 2:113/4.

The Coal Creek Insurrection.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 29. -The grand jury of Anderson county found two indictments against D. B. Monroe, the alleged leader of the miners in the Coal Creek insurrection. One indictment charges him with murder in the first degree in the killing of Private Frank Smith, of Chattanooga in the assault on Fort Anderson. The other charges him with a felony in aiding and abetting in the removal of the convicts, and the attempted destruction of the stockade at Coal Creek.

Singer Machine Works Burned. ELIZABETH, N. J., Sept. 29.-Fire in the Singer machine works at Elizabethport destroyed the cabinet and carpenter shops, each 300 feet long and three stories high. The flames also communicated to the roundhouse in the factory yard and this was also destroyed, with three locomotives and several freight and coal ears belonging to the Central railway. The total loss is $65,000. Charles Galloway was buried under the walls and is believed to be fatally in-

Indicting McDonald. CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—The grand jury this afternoon decided to indict M. C. Conald for bribery. The indictment will probably be returned to-morrow. McDonald is the widely known politician and sporting man. The alleged bribery was payment of $300 to Justice of the Peace Charles W. Woodman to influence a decision in favor of the Garfield park race track cases.

The steamship Watertown was burned at Shirley Gut, near Boston. The wife of the steward jumped into the water and hurt herself so that she died. All others escaped

PREPARING TO ACT.

New York Will Take Steps Against the Reading Coal Combination. ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 29. - Daniel G. Griffin, counsel for the special senate committee which has been investigating the Reading railroad combination, held an extended preliminary consultation with Attorney-Gen. Rosendale. The subject discussed was the action to be taken by the attorney-general on the recommendation of the senate investigating committee that action be taken to annul the charters and leases of such railroad corporations in this state as belong to the Reading coal combina-

The conference was adjourned until some day next week, when Mr. Griffin will go over the testimony adduced by the committee with Mr. Rosendale before the latter decides on what course should be taken. Mr. Griffin said that he had no doubt that the attorney-general would see that the position taken by the committee was a right one.

TWO NEW VESSELS.

A Cruiser and a Battle Ship to Be Constructed Under Contract.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Under the authority conferred by the last naval appropriation bill providing for the construction of the two new vessels for the navy, one a sea going battle ship of 9,-000 tons displacement and one an armored cruiser of 8,000 tons displacement, proposels were issued by the navy department for their construction.

The contract work guarantees that when the battle ship is completed and tested the speed shall not be less than an average of sixteen knots an hour, maintained successfully for four consecutive hours. The contract for the construction of the cruiser requires that she must develop a speed of not less than twenty knots under the same conditions as are prescribed for the battle ship. Each vessel must be completed within three years from date of the contract, and proposals must include the construction of both the vessel and her machinery complete in all respects.

PAROCHIAL SCHOOLS.

The Catholic Congress Resolves in Favor of Their Establishment.

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 29.-At the meeting of the Catholic congress among others the following resolution was

Following the many declarations of the holy see, particularly of Pius IX. of blessed memory and our present gloriously reigning holy father. and abiding with the direction of our episcopate and the third plenary council of Baltimore, with proverbial gratitude we hear the energetic utterances of many of our right reverend bishops. who with great emphasis demand the establishing and maintaining of parochial schools, especially that of the most reverend bishop of Illinois. We protest most emphatically against any attempt on the part of the state to infringe by any law the right of education and particularly against any manner of state force. Therefore we call upon our fellow Catholic citizens to give their votes only to such candidates who take a correct stand on this question.

A gentleman who made a bicycle tour around the world tells of a queer sight he saw in a out-of-the-way part of China, where the people have many quaint customs: "I saw about twenty Chinese infants tethered to stakes on a patch of greensward, like so many goats or pet lambs. The length of each baby's tether was about ten feet, and September, 42%c; May, 45%c. Oats-October, the bamboo stakes were set far enough apart so that the babies wouldn't get all tangled up. Each baby had a sort of girdle or kammerbund around its waist, and the end of the tether-string was tied to the back of this. Some of the little Celestials were crawling about on all fours; others were taking their first lessons in the feat of standing upright, by steadying themselves against the stake they were tied to. What queer little Chinese mortals they all looked, to be sure, picketed out on the grass land like a lot of young calves whose mothers were away for and Counselor. the day!
